

REBUILDING PROGRESSIVE JUDAISM IN RUSSIA & EASTERN EUROPE

Since 1989, the World Union has been rebuilding Progressive Jewish life across the Former Soviet Union.

With the fall of Communism, many Jews chose to leave the Former Soviet Union, but an estimated 500,000 or more remain. During the 65 years of Soviet rule, Judaism was virtually outlawed, and Jewish infrastructure collapsed.

The World Union operates a range of congregations and programs designed to engage and educate individuals and families in a creative, contemporary Judaism.

The Institute for Modern Jewish Studies in Moscow Training Russian-speaking rabbis and community leaders to strengthen and advance Reform Judaism in the region.

Informal Jewish Education | Hundreds of children and their families learn and experience Progressive Judaism in our vibrant communities.

Jewish Camping | More than 1,000 youth and young adults attended our experiential and transformative summer camps in Ukraine, Russia, Minsk and Poland in each year.

Youth Leadership Israel Programs | Working together, Netzer Olami, birthright Israel and MASA deepen connections between Russian-speaking youth and young adults, their Jewish identities and Israel.

Klau Youth Leadership Seminar
Inspiring Reform Jewish Youth in Russia and Eastern Europe to explore their Jewish identities, communities and peoplehood.

TOGETHER, WE ARE THE PROGRESSIVE JEWISH WORLD. SUPPORT OUR GROWTH.
