PLATINUM PAGE

One wonders what Mrs. Bergman gave her sons for breakfast in South Africa that they should both develop into committed and caring leaders passionate about Judaism and dedicated to supporting people in need.

The notes in the invitation to this dinner tell the facts but do not mention that together with their wives these two brothers are interesting and interested company bringing honor to those who honor them today.

In recent years Harvey and I formed a close loving friendship with Leslie and Dee in London and in Israel and Harvey would have shepped nachus from this event as do I.

A Tribute to Leslie & Dee Bergman and Stanley & Marion Bergman

Grey High and Junior schools are cornerstones of education in South Africa. As one of South Africa's oldest school's Grey has a strong tradition and heritage of preparing its boys, regardless of background, to fill leading roles in society. The Grey is proud to produce men of substance who make positive contributions to society. Stanley and Leslie are two humble but shining examples of this. The Grey Foundation has the role of ensuring the prosperity and success of the school and its learners for generations to come. Its purpose is to Ensure Tomorrow's Leaders in South Africa.

It was an honor and privilege to host Leslie & Dee and Stanley & Marion Bergman as special guests for our alumni Reunion in May 2018. It also marked the 50th anniversary of Stanley's graduation from Grey High School, and the 58th anniversary for Leslie.

Leslie has been the driver of the United Kingdom Old Grey community, to support the development and ethos of the school. He and Dee have made a substantive financial contribution in their personal capacity. Leslie has also harnessed fellow alumni to make a difference in the lives of under-privileged children from disadvantaged backgrounds by enabling them to attend Grey. In addition to their financial contributions, they have assisted and supported the school to ensure that these boys receive the appropriate support on a broader spectrum. This has enabled the boys to develop and achieve to their full potential from an academic and cultural perspective. Their remarkable support and ongoing assistance is invaluable.

Stanley has assisted in developing the Old Grey network in the United States of America. He and Marion have contributed to the school in many capacities and have made a substantive commitment to enhance the arts and culture facilities at the school. This will enable the development of world class facilities that will transform the development of a growing number of talented musicians and artists.

For the 2018 Reunion, Stanley was selected as the Guest Speaker for the Grey Foundation Memorial Lecture. He shared his lessons in life with notable guests and current pupils of Grey High School. He left the attendees feeling inspired, enlightened and fascinated by his life – one that started from modest beginnings, was filled with inspirational people who impacted his life in a number of ways, and his subsequent success in the global corporate and humanitarian environments.

The Grey High School and Grey Foundation Trust, on behalf of the Old Grey Union and the broader Grey community, are humbled and inspired by the commitment and support shown by these two families. We are honored to call these esteemed brothers our alumni.

Charles 1999 (11) P. All and the constraint of the first of the fir

The South African Union for Progressive Judaism congratulates the Bergman families on their achievement, which has brought great pride to our Movement.

Leslie and Stanley have also honoured the memory of their parents, Arnold and Ruth, who fled the Nazis to South Africa and became founders and life-long leaders of the Progressive community in their home town of Port Elizabeth. Leslie went on to lead the Progressive movement in Johannesburg for many years before becoming a national and international leader. His organisational and diplomatic skills proved essential during the difficult closing years of apartheid, and he advocated courageously for Progressive values.

It was in South Africa that the Bergmans, husbands and wives, learned the importance of supporting those in need. When the two families left South Africa thirty years ago, they continued with their personal and business successes and took their wide-ranging interests and generous philanthropy to a world stage. They visit South Africa often, and Leslie has continued to be closely involved with the South African movement as a wise and trusted mentor.

We salute you all, Leslie, Dee, Stanley and Marion, and your children, and thank you for all you have done.

On behalf of our more than 170 Progressive communities in 17 countries, the European Union for Progressive Judaism (EUPJ) extends a heartfelt Mazal Tov to our Honorary Life President, Leslie Bergman, to his wife Dee, to Stanley and Marion and all the Bergman family in grateful recognition of their lasting contribution to the re-establishment of Progressive Judaism in Europe and across the world.

Gordon Smith, President Sonja Guentner, Chair EUROPEAN IGRES

As the president of the liberal Jewish community Or Chadasch in Vienna, I am very pleased that our honorary president Leslie Bergman will jointly with his family receive the International Humanitarian Award of the WUPJ. I met Leslie for the first time in 1990 when he and his family moved from South Africa to Vienna for professional reasons. He just arrived at the moment when our congregation was founded. Leslie immediately decided to support Or Chadasch and to take the position of vice president. It took a while for me to learn his prominent role for the worldwide movement of progressive Judaism, which he continued until today. It is fair to say that without Leslie's efforts, progressive Judaism might not exist in Vienna today. I also admire his charitable projects, including his support for Africa Tikkun and the Gustav Mahler Youth Orchestra in Austria. To our deep regret, Leslie and his family left Vienna after a decade for London. In the name of Or Chadasch, I want to thank my friend Leslie wholeheartedly for his long-lasting and loyal support for our congregation and and progressive Judaism worldwide.

> Dr. Theodor Much Or Chadasch in Vienna

My warmest congratulations and gratitude to our most deserving honorees who have contributed so significantly toward furthering the values of Progressive Judaism around the world.
